- (a) Can the large-scale removal of stray dogs be ethically justified in the name of public welfare? Justify your answer.
- (b) What alternatives or policy interventions would you propose to ensure both human safety and animal welfare? (20 Marks, 250 Words)

The above case study highlights the ethical dilemma between bureaucratic morality and constitutional morality as the Supreme Court decision comes loggearheads to administrative feasibility.

[a] Large scale removal of stray dogs on such a short notice and limited resources can not be ethically justified as :-

- 1) Right violation of stray dogs - as their biological nature for claiming territory gets damaged as they are forced to live in cramped shelter homes.

→ right to life with essential amenities become crucial

2) Kantian categorical imperative highlights that no justified ends can utilise any unjustified means (eg) life of animals can't be compromised for lives of humans as all are equal in eyes of God.

3) Buddha's middle path highlights that extreme decision making is skewed due to limited understanding, expansion of one cognition happen when we seek the middle ground. eg Relocation of dogs such that they remain playful and preserve their natural instinct.

4) Plato's philosopher king talks about deep thinking to cater justice to everyone! Allegory of cave suggests how to leave shadow of short sightedness to achieve the moral pathway.

(b) Alternative Policy interventions to ensure human safety & animal welfare →

① following global best practices and international standards to maintain public spaces free of dogs and other stray animals

② Identifying root causes

↳ strict law enforcement to curb illegal abandoning of pet animals to streets

↳ mission mode preparation of animal rescue centers in partnership with NGO's and voluntary dog owners

↳ Promoting adoption of animals by pet owners instead of investing in foreign breeds

③ Enhancing civil participation to increase awareness and justified relocation of stray dogs and other animals to provide safe public spaces

Administration, civil society and citizen need to work in synergy to achieve justified living for everyone.
